Mad Libs is the world-famous word game that has been delighting fans of all ages since its invention in the 1950s by Roger Price and Leonard Stern. Fill in the blanks of a Mad Libs with any words you choose, and become the author of your own story!

My daughter is a huge fan of the Wimpy Kid books, and loves mad libs, so I got this for her (it would also make a great and affordable stocking stuffer). It's funny, and cheaper here on Amazon, if you can even find it. It's 48 pages with titles like The school dance, and Roderick's School Report. There aren't many of the cute wimpy kid sketches in the book, just the same one on each page. What I do like, is on the back of each mad libs page, there is a list of the words you need. You can fill out this page if alone, then fill it in on the mad libs page; that way, you don't see the story that you are making up the words for.

My son is enjoying his Mad Libs, Wimpy Kid style. This is fun for adults to play as well. It's amazing how different a story can turn out by leaving out key words and asking participants to fill them in with no knowledge of the content of the story. Some of the results are uncanny, and there are plenty of opportunities for kids to get silly and creative with this. This is fun for all ages, my son enjoys it, and it reinforces the parts of speech. Plus, it's Wimpy Kid, so what's not to love? I paid full price for this item. All opinions are my own.

for Christmas gifts this year for all the kids and even the parents, I purchased age appropriate Mad Libs, with all the negativity in the world and the growing technology devises that are leaving people unsocial etc... I wanted to give the gift of conversations and laughter so I gave everyone Madlibs, a season of Threes Company, Joke books, and conversation starters for the dinner table. they were all a hit.

My eight year old grandson loves The Diary of a Wimpy Kid series of books. He owns and has read the entire series. When I saw this book, I ordered for him. He has enjoyed it as much as the other books in the series.

Had a problem getting the product at Christmas time but the issue was resolved quickly and I am so glad to have been able to introduce a new generation of kids in my family to something that my sister and I loved so much. And it is so fun to do them again with my nieces and nephews! Will definitely purchase other MadLib versions.

Our son and our family have fun with this. More funny if you're familiar with the books, but anyone can laugh along.

Book was made very well and my son loves it. He has completed the whole book and we laughed and laughed with the answers you can come up with once it's time to read each page the kids get to create. Great way to spend some time with the whole family. Recommend to all!

My grandson loved it, and it opened a conversation about words and history.
