Customer Reviews

"I am very pleased with the quality of the scholarship, writing style, clarity and analysis. I am also pleased with the manner in which the publisher has packaged and presented the textbook and the ancillary materials. This is as solid and intellectually honest a textbook as one could hope for. It should be the standard by which all others are measured. The emphasis on students using their critical thinking skills to reach conclusions on issues of the day provides a firm foundation for their future growth as citizens of this country. In conclusion, I think that this is the finest American Government textbook available today. The authors combine excellent scholarship, academic rigor, practical examples and insights which makes this text an invaluable aid to any student trying to understand their government." "I immensely like the writing style and level; it reads like a story, exactly what will keep my students engaged."

James Q. Wilson, late, most recently taught at Boston College and Pepperdine University. Previously, he was Professor Emeritus of Management and Public Administration at UCLA and Shattuck Professor of Government at Harvard University. He wrote more than a dozen books on the subjects of public policy, bureaucracy and political philosophy. A former President of the American Political Science Association (APSA), he was the only political scientist to win three of the four lifetime achievement awards presented by the organization. In 2003 he received the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian award. Professor Wilson's work helped shape the field of Political Science in the United States. His many years of service to AMERICAN GOVERNMENT: INSTITUTIONS AND POLICIES remain evident on every page and will continue for many editions to come. John J. Dilulio, Jr. is a Professor of Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania and has won each of Penn's most prestigious teaching awards. He was previously Professor of Politics and Public Affairs at Princeton University. He received his Ph.D. in Political Science from Harvard University. He has been a senior fellow and directed research programs at several leading think tanks, including the Brookings Institution. Dr. Dilulio has won awards from the Association of Public Policy Analysis and Management, the American Political Science Association and other bodies. He has also advised presidential candidates in both parties, served on bipartisan government reform commissions and worked as a senior staff member in the White House. Meena Bose is director of the Peter S. Kalikow Center for the Study of the American Presidency, Peter S. Kalikow Chair in Presidential Studies and Professor of Political Science at Hofstra University. She received her Ph.D. from Princeton University in 1996. Dr. Bose teaches courses on the American presidency, presidential leadership and policy making and American politics. She is the author or editor of several volumes in presidency studies and American politics. She taught for six years at the United States Military Academy at West Point. Matthew S. Levendusky is Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania. He obtained his Ph.D. from Stanford University and his B.A. from The Pennsylvania State University. Dr. Levendusky's research focuses on understanding how institutions and elites influence the political behavior of ordinary citizens, including studies of mass polarization, the effects of partisan media and various other topics. His work has been honored with several awards, including the 2011 Jewell-Lowenberg Award for the best article published in Legislative Studies Quarterly, the 2013 best paper award from the Journal of Politics, the 2014 Goldsmith Book Prize from Harvard University's Shorenstein Center for HOW PARTISAN MEDIA POLARIZE AMERICA and the 2016 Erik Erikson Early Career Award from the International Society of Political Psychology.

Very dry. Very dull. Suppose it serves its purpose since the publisher has all of their quizzes online, so you don't have to actually read it, just run a google search of the question. SO very glad I don't have to actually read it to get through this class!!

If you go to Mizzou don't buy this book. You'll never use it.

An okay book, but the price is nothing more than theft for college students who have no choice. thx no thx
